Aliz Strikes Back

I am a sad alien named Aliz. I live on planet Blob, but my life was starting to get interesting, very interesting.

Everyday I apply for more and more colleges but no luck.

I have figured out why i am not being let in,it is because I am a woman, and I have decided to start protesting with other alien women to fight for equality.

To raise awareness for the problem I am facing, I have decided to make posters and hand them out across town.

While in my 23rd protest a rock gets thrown into the crowd and knocks me out. I wake up in the hospital to find all of my loved ones sitting next to me saying, "You did it! Women can now go to college." I went to college and lived a life worthy of my dreams.
